U.N. Debate End Sought By Sobolev

World Opinion On Soviet Action Due
For Cold Shoulder

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—
The Soviet Union dashed any hope today that world public opinion soon will force Russian troops to withdraw from Hungary.

The Russians made their position clear less than six hours after the 81-nation Assembly met yesterday to debate a committee report that Soviet troops suppressed a popular Hungarian uprising last fall.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev asked the Assembly to drop the Hungarian question. He said
Soviet troops were in Hungary "carrying out their international duties" under the Warsaw Pact.

League Introduces Resolution

Sobolev declared that the "temporary stationing" of Soviet troops in Hungary was strictly a matter for the Soviet Union and Hungary to decide.

Also before the Assembly is a U.S.-backed resolution calling for an end to "repressive measures against the Hungarian people."

In introducing the resolution, Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States said the 36 sponsoring nations had faith that "the wheel of history can, with God's help and steadfast human effort be-made to move toward justice and truth."

He said Hungarians could be relieved of their troubles "if the Soviet Union, which exercises military power in Hungary, will respond to the judgments of world opinion."

"The Soviet Union has shown a great resistance to the voice of world opinion on the matter," he declared, "but we cannot believe that it will be forever deaf to the voice of its own manifest interest, which is to act in harmony with the conscience of the world."

Argentine Delegate Mariano Jose Drago said, "If the universal conscience has meaning to the Soviet Union, the Soviet Union will not fail to satisfy it and withdraw its occupation forces from Hungary."

Hungarian Delegate Peter Mod-erndorff of U.N. debates on the Hungarian question. But he contended that U.N. consideration of the question violated a charter provision forbidding the organization to take a hand in domestic matters.

Mod urged that the Assembly dissolve its special committee on Hungary and condemn the committee's 150,000-word report as "intervention, slander and incitement to war."

Report Filed In June

The committee, set up by the Assembly Jan. 10, reported June 20 that massive Soviet armed intervention crushed a nationally-supported uprising in Hungary.

Red Warning Hikes Tension In Mideast

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A sharp Soviet warning aimed at Turkey and the West added new pressure today to the rising tension in the Middle East.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accused Turkey of massing troops along the frontier of leftist Syria, thereby serving as a tool of the United States.

Declaring Syria has reliable friends, the Soviet official grimly warned Turkey against any military moves that would plunge it "over the precipice."

Gromyko said in Moscow yesterday that Soviet-Turkish relations have always been good "and the Soviet Union will view with regret any development which would cause them to darken."

The Russian charge of Turkish troop movements was discounted by authoritative sources in Ankara.

They said the Turkish army regularly holds maneuvers at this time of year. Any operations near the Syrian border are only routine
exercises and have no connection
with recent developments in Syria,
they added.

They also termed "completely and purely imaginary" a charge
by the Soviet army newspaper Red Star that U.S. military units have landed in Turkey to support moves against Syria.

Expanding his warning to Turkey to a blast at the United States, Gromyko in a talk with correspondents blamed the most recent Middle East crisis on the Eisenhower Doctrine.

He said sponsors of the U.S.
plan to halt the spread of communist in the Middle East are "attempting to persuade Turkey to take up the role of policeman."

Mrs. Meade and her husband are defendants. She is Harrison's niece.

Sergeant Freed Of Abuse Charge

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor from Pomona, Calif., crushed the hopes of rancher Frank Bostock in the third round of the National Amateur Golf Championship today. Taylor, 1957 U.S. Walker Cup player, whipped the Arizona player who was one of yesterday's big upset winners, 7 and 6.

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—The second of eight Army enlisted men charged with mistreating basic trainees was acquitted by a special court-martial yesterday.

Sgt. Jack Riley, 27, of Brunswick, Ga., was cleared of charges that he withheld trainees' mail, called an 11 p.m. formation while drunk, and punished two trainees for refusing to buy company stationery.

The officers quoted the child as saying her aunt told her "to get the gun in the closet and shoot
him." She said she did just that,
officers reported.

Investigators said the aunt did
not elaborate on her story.

The girl, whose name was not released for publication, said her aunt and uncle took each other's clothing and fought from the kitchen
into the bedroom and back.

The officers quoted the child as
saying her aunt told her "to get
the gun in the closet and shoot
him." She said she did just that,
officers reported.

Mrs. Ayala was booked on suspicion of murder.

Capt. Glen Pleasant and E. F.

Holliday said Mrs. Ayala's 8-year-old niece told them her aunt and uncle had a violent quarrel after custody there.

Report Princess To Wed Wallace Brings Denials

LONDON (AP)—The tabloid Daily Sketch said today Princess Margaret plans to marry socialist Billy Wallace within the next six months, perhaps before she leaves for a West Indian tour next April.

But a source close to both of them denied the report.

"You can say categorically that there is no truth to this story," said the source, "and I have this from Billy Wallace himself."

Wallace, stepson of American author-editor Herbert S. Agar, for years has served as a frequent escort for Margaret. He is 39. Margaret is 27.

Tot Says She Killed Uncle,

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—Police reported today that a little girl, dressed in a sun suit told them
she killed her uncle with a rifle and uncle tore each other's clothing and fought from the kitchen
into the bedroom and back.

The officers quoted the child as
saying her aunt told her "to get
the gun in the closet and shoot
him." She said she did just that,
officers reported.

Investigators said the aunt did
not elaborate on her story.

The girl had been living with the aunt several months. Police even

Big Dredge Sinks, Four Listed Dead

Freighter Rams Army Vessel Near West Coast Port

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP)—A huge Army dredge sank in Coos Bay channel last night minutes after it was rammed by a Norwegian freighter. Three members of the dredge crew died, another was missing and six were injured.

There was no casualty aboard the freighter, the 375-foot Thor-shall, which was outbound for San Francisco with a crew of 35.

The dredge, the 268-foot Rossell, sank to the bottom of the shallow channel within five minutes.
The prow of the freighter knited into its port side, breaking open two of its three water-tight bulkheads.

Had Received Award
Only hours before, the dredge crew had been presented with a plaque for two years of accident-free operation.

Most of the 30-man crew were below deck eating dinner at the time.

They rushed to the deck and some began climbing the rigging and masts as eight-foot swells broke over the deck. Three life boats were launched but one was swamped minutes after it hit the water. A fourth boat was battered to pieces by huge waves as the crew attempted to float it.

Fifteen of the Russell crew were snatched from the rigging and masts of the sunken vessel by a helicopter, piloted by Wesley C.
LeMatta, of Portland. He had been hired to fly Col. Jackson Graham, chief of the Portland District Army Corp of Engineers, on an aerial inspection of the corps' projects in the area.

The dredge had been working in the channel.

Lower Sling To Rigging
Graham, who directed the entire rescue operation, was hovering above the stricken ship within 10 minutes after it sank. He and La-Matta lowered a sling to the rigging and masts and carried survivors to the nearby shore, making several trips. Some of the survivors made the short trip to shore hanging onto a rope by their hands, an eyewitness reported.

Those who escaped in boats were picked up by Coast Guard vessels and other boats.

They said the Turkish army
regularly holds maneuvers at this time of year. Any operations near
the Syrian border are only routine
exercises and have no connection
with recent developments in Syria,
they added.

He said publisher Robert Harrison of Confidential and "its lesser sister in sin, Whisper," had not one bit of concern whose name was blackened."

Ritzi ridiculed defense concerns that Confidential was a public service type magazine.

He said Harrison made a profit of $300,000 on issue on Confidential and boosted its circulation to nearly four million copies.

Ritzi concentrated his argument to the jury on link Confidential and Whisper with Fred and Marjorie Meade who, he said, were sent to Hollywood by Harrison as his agents.

Mrs. Meade and her husband
are defendants. She is Harrison's
niece.

STUTTGART, Germany (AP)—One of Germany's top rocket experts said today the reported Soviet development of an intercontinental

ballistic missile is a serious challenge to the United States.

"And there is no reason to believe the Russians are bluffing," the expert, Dr. Eugen Saenger, said.

He added that the bill does not include many of the important changes which he recommended to Congress.

The latest advisory fixed the central position of the season's third hurricane at Latitude 20.5

north and Longitude 52.4 West.

It was stationary, the forecast
said.

Ships were warned that Carrie remained a severe hurricane although there was no immediate threat to land.

Saenger said in an interview that one is likely to be a manned rocket whose estimated range varies from 4,000 to 10,000 miles, and could cover the distance from Leningrad to New York in 89 minutes.

Saenger also said the Russians are ahead in the development of an accurate steering apparatus.

Film Producer To Take 'Off-Beat' Global Trip

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If it takes all kinds of people to make a world, it should take all kinds to tell about one. This reasoning has led film producer Stuart V. Jewell to plan one of the season's more off-beat hops around Mother Earth.

He's getting ready to circle the planet with a salesman, an engineer, a doctor, a musician, an architect, a sportsman and possibly representatives of other occupations.

Why?

"When a man goes traveling," Jewell says, "he thinks in terms of his own interest. A doctor looks at people and thinks of their health. An architect looks at buildings."

So Jewell is going to take them along to get their specialized observations for a new television travel series.

"We will look at the world through their eyes," he said in an interview yesterday.

Jewell says he'll make a series of 25 half-hour television shows in color. For several years he has been making travel-and-nature films, working as an independent contractor. "I shot over half of Walt Disney's 'Secrets of Life' and a considerable amount of the 'Living Desert' film," he said.

Jewell, 40, and his partner, Clyde (Sandy) Young, 32, are now searching for the various occupational representatives they will take along as fellow adventurers in a converted World War II Catalina amphibian plane.

Each one chosen will be required to pay $7,000 to help cover the expenses of making the TV series and the 60-day trip around the world. Jewell said this will make them investors in the project, and entitled to share what ever profits may develop.

They hope to leave on the expedition in about two months.

Jewell said places where they will make episodes include India, Singapore, Indonesia, Australia, Hawaii, Paris, Rome, Bonne and Egypt.

Red Conviction Voided By Court

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A federal appeals court today threw out the conspiracy convictions of five Communist leaders convicted under the Smith Act in March 1956.

The court said the government had failed to prove its charges that the five had conspired to teach or advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

During their trial, the defendants never denied they were Communists but asserted membership in the party was no crime.

Heavy Rains Pelt States In Northeast

By The Associated Press

Cloudy and showery weather persisted over most of the nation today from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast. Mostly clear skies prevailed in areas west of the Rockies.

Although rain fell in eastern and southeastern sections, the main belt of precipitation was in the central part of the country. It stretched from the middle Mississippi Valley southwestward through the central Plains and the southern Rockies.

The light rain in the New England area was associated with a weak low in southern Ontario. There were some heavy falls, including nearly 1½ inches at Newark, N.J., and nearly 1 inch at Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N.Y.

In the Southeast, the heaviest rain was in South Carolina and northeastern Georgia.

Baltimore was drenched with 2 inches of rain yesterday. A section of a main downtown bridge was washed out and more than 40 workers were marooned on rooftops of three east Baltimore trucking firms. Firemen working three rowboats in a shuttle rescue operation took the workers off the roofs of the one-story buildings as water swirled up to depths of six feet. The downpour snarled rush-hour traffic.

Nashville police imposed a clampdown on segregation demonstrations after a massive dynamite explosion smashed the half-million-dollar Hattie Cotton Grammar School in the early morning. The newly integrated school was empty at the time. Attendance at five other racially mixed schools dropped sharply after word of the explosion spread.

The blast followed steadily mounting violence which accompanied admission of 15 Negro first-graders to the formerly all-white schools Monday.

In Newport, R.I., White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that President Eisenhower thought the dynamiting of the Nashville school was "a terrible thing."

But, Hagerty said, the President intends to leave solution of the school integration disorders to legal procedures.

In Nashville, Gov. Frank Clement offered a $5,000 reward in the school bombing.

A special detail of 12 to 13 state troopers was sent to Clement's home last night as a result of reported threats on the governor's life for failure to use national guardmen to prevent school integration.

The threats were reported by an official who declined use of his name. Clement said he had not been told of any threats on his life.

Nashville police arrested 26 persons during the day. Among them was Kasper, who was taken into custody in city court as he sought to make bond for some of his followers.

Kasper was charged with disorderly and offensive conduct, vagrancy and loitering and released on bond.

Arrested early today for the third time in 12 hours, Kasper was charged with inciting to riot. He was denied bond.

Singer Mentions Little Rock And Show Is Stopped

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Singer Fran Warren stopped a show last night when she mentioned Little Rock.

Playing Nellie Forbush in a Long Island summer stock presentation of "South Pacific," Miss Warren followed the script when she was asked where she was from.

"Little Rock," she replied—just as Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II wrote it.

The audience booted so long at mention of the city where a school integration dispute is raging that the show was temporarily stopped.

Prince "Satisfactory" After Heart Surgery

BOSTON (AP)—Prince Alexandre, 15, of Belgium, today was reported in satisfactory condition after an operation in which a section of the great main artery leading from his heart was removed.

The operation at Children's Medical Center lasting five hours, involved removal of a constricted section of the great artery and sewing the severed ends together.

The threats were reported by an official who declined use of his name. Clement said he had not been told of any threats on his life.

Nashville police arrested 26 persons during the day. Among them was Kasper, who was taken into custody in city court as he sought to make bond for some of his followers.

UN Debate

The U.S.-supported resolution would name Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, Assembly president, as special representative on the Hungarian problem to "take such steps as he deems appropriate" in view of the committee's findings.

It would have the Assembly endorse the report and condemn the Soviet Union for its intervention and for "the continued defiance of the resolutions of the General Assembly."

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Lancaster County Court Judge Herbert Ronin yesterday told John Provoo, 40, a year-old former Army sergeant once convicted of treason, to "begin helping yourself" and fined him $150 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Provoo told the court that "I am persona non grata to the government and the public at large. I presume I am considered undesirable. I sought a friend and found one in this boy, and his friendship has meant a great deal to me."

The charge was based on Provoo's action in accompanying Robert H. Lane, 16-year-old Anna's boy, on a runaway trip. Judge Ronin said he found Provoo guilty of aiding and abetting the boy to quit looking to others for help and

U. N. Vote System

SIR WINSTON Churchill wants to change the voting system in the United Nations. He believes the present plan of one vote for each nation allows combinations of small and sometimes irresponsible states to govern vital decisions in the organization. U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold doubts, however, that the "equal vote" arrangement really handicaps the U.N.'s usefulness in dealing with world problems. Since any durable world agency would seem necessarily to be founded on the equality of nations, the Churchill plan is unlikely to advance far. Despite their differences of power, size, and development, the various countries of the earth could hardly be graded and classified successfully.

ONE GREAT VIRTUE of national independence is the dignity it brings to a sovereign voice as it speaks to the world. How could we truly justify muffling many of these voices in the U.N. by allotting them half votes or less? Sir Winston may well have an important point in his argument, but the answer perhaps lies in other channels. The U.N. today is a sounding board, a forum, a battleground for many small nations, some new and some old, which before its existence could not have counted on being heard well anywhere. In the nature of things, some of these are flexing their vocal muscles more than is either fitting or necessary to sustain their true interests.

SINCE ANY NUMBER are former colonies of the Western powers, there may be, consciously or otherwise, some spitefulness in the formation of combinations to defy the big nations within the U.N. Of course this is immature and foolish, for whatever the errors of the colonial powers in the past, they are not morally balanced by similar errors today on the part of the emerging small countries. The cure would not appear to be to limit the voice of these nations in the U.N. or anywhere else, but instead to encourage in them a deep sense of responsibility toward the finest ideals of international justice. Young in the use of their modest strength, they must not be deprived of it but rather taught the wise exercise of it.

Happiest Decade

MANY PERSONS fear old age. To a certain extent, their fears are justified. Old age without security and good health can be a depressing and terrible experience. With reasonably good health and security, however, the declining years can be not only pleasant but exciting and interesting. A persuasive witness to this truth is Edith Hamilton, a woman of great learning who still finds herself intensely interested in life at the age of ninety. Miss Hamilton's books—"The Greek Way," "The Roman Way," and others—have become classics of their kind. When asked recently how it felt to be 90 years old, she replied: "I would say to everyone that the happiest decade is from 80 to ninety. It's just delightful. You are far more free from yourself; you know a lot more; you are a better observer; life is more interesting as it goes on. Life must be more interesting to you than when you were 16. Very well, I have exactly that same feeling." These are the words of a wise and discerning lady. They suggest that those of us beyond retirement age still have something well worth looking forward to.

American Free Way Is Real Merit System

NEW YORK—In the prolonged discussion between the East and the West at London of the problem of disarmament, an air of unreality prevailed.

Because of the diplomatic tendency politely to skip over blunt realities, an important ingredient was overlooked.

This omission relates to the enormous spiritual advantage of free men over others.

Weapons in the United States and the rest of the free world are capable of different performance than the same inventory of destructive material in the Soviet Union and the satellites.

In the free world, weapons can be counted upon to be used against the enemy, because government, as a font of authority, exists by consent of the governed.

The adventure last Autumn in Hungary underscored in grim reality the fact that behind the Iron Curtain this is not true. Tanks were used to crush Hungarian freedom fighters in the name of an unwanted Hungarian Kadar Government.

Where men are held down by force, the risk of international war is a tremendous hazard for the enslavers.

They cannot count on unwilling subjects to move unified against a declared enemy.

IN ORDER fully to capitalize on this essential difference in cold war, and in the spiritual international competition for men's minds and hearts, it seems to me timely to restate the characteristics of the American system, as the most outstanding example of a segment of the free world, and in naive terms to contrast these points with those that prevail under present day Bolshevism in the Soviet Union.

The American system is predicated on intellectual, political and economic free choice of the individual.

The U.S. Bill of Rights is no authoritarian set of restrictions limiting what the citizen can do. On the contrary, it in essence gives the individual even the right to be wrong, and this is an important right. There is no freedom if it is limited to what some little commissar in a big job says is proper.

The chief restraint on license in the United States is to prevent thoughtless acts which would impinge on the freedom of the next fellow. Thus free government sets up traffic rules and undertakes to enforce them.

THUS American freedom of worship also protects the right of the skeptic not to participate in organized religion.

On the economic side, the objective is to create an optimum of free choices for the individual.

Competitors engage in expensive research and new product exploration in order to widen the potential choices of the customer.

By his free choices, the customer ultimately determines how manpower and material should be employed—what types of articles should be produced and in what quantities. In the Soviet Union, these decisions are made by little commissars in big jobs.

In addition to freedom to spend his income according to his personal whim, the individual, within the framework of his aptitudes and of general economic trends, is permitted to pick vocations of his own choosing. There is no assignment over here by communists to occupations which the state deems paramount.

These freedoms over here in spiritual and material affairs are paralleled by liberty to experiment with ideas. The Courts are zealous to prevent men from being punished for thoughts. Treason and sedition must be linked with unpatriotic acts, and conspiracy to perform such acts.

The Constitution itself is no sacred and unchanging document, but contains within itself directions for amendment. The longevity of the U.S. Constitution is heightened by the foresight of the Founding Fathers who recognized the desirability of provision for adjustment to changing conditions and circumstances.

THUS, in moral, spiritual and economic terms, the American free system is armed with values which physical production alone cannot accomplish in the slave area behind the Iron Curtain.

Occasionally the Soviet Union will in a futile way send over delegates to study the success formula of American agriculture and industry. But the American productive system is vastly more than technology and applied engineering.

American productivity is the result of voluntary cooperation by competently led free men who are motivated to toil by a system of incentives and rewards.

Unlike Marxism which levels down, the American Way is a merit system, which offers compensation for high excellence.

U. N. Session Will Deal With Old Problems

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Hashing over the same old problems that have bothered the United Nations in years past will be the principal business of the 12th General Assembly convening in New York Sept. 17.

There may be a little excitement in the elections during the opening days of the session.

Australia, Cuba and the Philippine Islands will relinquish their seats on the Security Council and successors will have to be chosen. Canada is expected to replace Australia, and Japan the Philippines.

Dominican Republic, Panama and the Argentine are active candidates for the Latin-American seat. The United States will support whomever the Latinos can agree on among themselves.

Russia may throw its first monkey wrench into the proceedings by backing either Czechoslovakia or Burma for the seat now slated to go to Japan.

TWO candidates are in the lead for election as president of the General Assembly. Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand got his name in first and the U.S. pledged him support.

Then Foreign Minister Charles Malik of Lebanon entered the race. He is one of the West's best friends in the Middle East. The U.S. would like to support him. But there is a strong feeling that his services will be more valuable in dealing with delegates from other Middle East countries on the floor of the Assembly than they would be as its presiding officer.

The Security Council election may be complicated later by a proposal to increase its nonpermanent members from seven to nine or 11. This is believed necessary in view of the increase in size of the U.N. itself.

It had 51 members to begin with. Now it has 81. The new Kingdom of Malaya is seeking admission and will probably get it. Western proposals to admit South Korea and Viet Nam will be countered by Communist preposals to admit Outer Mongolia and from Red China. This will probably be another stalemate.

THE U.N. five-nation subcommittee on disarmament, whose lengthy deliberations are grinding toward another impasse at London, may give the U.N. General Assembly its greatest headache.

The Soviet has objected all along that this subcommittee consisted of four principal NATO powers—Britain, Canada, France and the U.S.—in opposition to Russia. It has demanded larger Communist representation, say from Red China.

India has also been pushing for a role in disarmament talks, and may get some consideration. But there are no clear ideas of just what new approach might be taken to disarming.

Today the same firm makes the same tires, but the Windflight Deluxe Slipstream. This was its best, premium grade tire, and it was costly even with three 10 percent discounts from list. I know about this because I bought some.

Today the same firm makes the same tires, but the Windflight Deluxe, etc., is a third-grade tire. Or maybe a second, if you don't count the premium grade.

This ends to be confusing, even to smart fellows like United States Senators. So the Senate Small Business Committee under the leadership of Senator Hubert H. Humphrey is opening soon an investigation into Alice's Adventures in the Rubber Wonderland.

HUMPHREY is not complaining about the tires, you understand. They're as good, and possibly better, than they ever were, grade for grade. What's bothering Humphrey is the fact that the average citizen, who has not the time to make a careful, comparative study of the names and the price lists, cannot possibly decide for himself whether he's bought the tires he wanted it from their true worth.

The committee will go into this tire-selling business in detail and try to discover what implausibility in the minds of the tire people caused them to make an almost unfathomable mystery of their pricing policies.

Protests Filed Against Septic Tank Practices

CAMBRIDGE, Md.—A State Health Department regulation concerning septic systems for individual homes was heavily criticized here yesterday by city and county officials, business men and construction workers.

Since 1953, the health department has had a regulation which requires the septic systems meet a so-called percolation test which determines the rate of drainage.

But the requirement is virtually impossible to meet in about two-thirds of Dorchester County because when a hole is dug in the clay soil, water is soon reached and moisture seeps into the bottom of the hole. The test is impossible under those conditions.

As a result, seepage pits filled with gravel to handle the septic tank runoff have been used in the county without objection from the health department.

Within the last two weeks, however, the State agency has been enforcing its regulation after the Federal Housing Administration said it wouldn't lend money for construction unless the septic tests were passed.

Sen. Markus (D-Dorchester), one of 75 persons attending the meeting, said he thought it was "ridiculous to say we can't build in two-thirds of Dorchester County because the State Health Department won't approve the septic system."

West Virginia Korean Bonus Kickoff Slated

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A two-day meeting of State Department of Veterans Affairs staff members that opened today at Jackson's Mill will kickoff the $1.5-million-dollar bonus program for West Virginia's Korean War veterans.

Veterans Affairs Director C. S. Collier Jr. said that the meetings will serve as an item-by-item processing of the bonus machinery, or "the beginning of an intensive program culminating in payment of the bonus."

However, Collier pointed out that no bonus applications will be available until Nov. 1 and the department will not accept applications until that date. Collier said payment cannot move fast, explaining that abundant paper work in previous quarter.

AFL And CIO Councils In Area Merge

F. Pat Allender
Named President
Of Joint Unions

The AFL and CIO labor councils of the area merged at a ceremony last night in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Delegates of the Allegany Trades Council (AFL) and the Western Maryland Industrial Council (CIO) voted unanimously to unite into the new Western Maryland Labor Council.

The organization will represent some 4,000 members of Allegany County unions, about equally divided between 21 American Federation of Labor locals and six Congress of Industrial Organizations locals.

F. Patrick Allender, representing the AFL, was elected president of the new council, and Harold H. Riggelman, CIO, was named vice president.

Joseph F. Garlick, AFL, became secretary, and Stanley Zorick, CIO, financial secretary and treasurer.

Eight executive board members, equally divided between former AFL and CIO locals, will be elected at a meeting of the council October 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

The county merger followed by almost two years the national merger of the AFL and the CIO. Maryland-D. C. labor councils were formally merged at a meeting in Washington last Friday.

County Civil Defense Alert Scheduled

Allegany County will participate in the second National Civil Defense Week which will be observed next week.

William G. Barger, county Civil Defense director, said last night the fire department, all possible, should attempt to get home for further instructions to the general public. The local fire department will play a major role one day during the week when the public will take part in a mock raid.

Barger said a movie film in Allegany County, dealing with activities of CD personnel, will be shown on several occasions to the general public. The dates and places for the showing will be announced later.

During the daylight hours of one of the days the public will take part in a "surprise" air raid and traffic will be halted for a short period.

Next week's alert will last about five minutes prior to the "all clear." Throughout the major aim of the alert is to coordinate the drill through the use of the radio fire network.

On Thursday industry participation in Civil Defense will be stressed throughout the state. Industrial plants that have CD plans will be asked to activate them at 3 p. m.

On Friday Maryland schools are asked to put their CD plans in effect at 10 a. m. In addition thousands of posters have been distributed and CD literature published by the Federal CD Administration has been sent to all parts of Maryland.

Court Action Filed Against Head Of Firm

Shareholders Seek Return Of 80,000 Shares Of Stock

Five major stockholders yesterday filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking a court order directing the former president and vice president of the Endless Thread Tractor Corporation to surrender certificates for some 80,000 shares of common stock in the corporation.

The bill of complaint also requests the court to enjoin the defendants, Charles E. Burgess and Charlotte E. Burgess, his wife, both of 213 Mt. Royal Avenue, from "selling, transferring, assigning or otherwise disposing" of the 80,000 shares of stock.

Chief Judge George Henderson signed a show cause order giving the Burgesses five days after service of the bill of complaint upon them to show cause why they should not be enjoined and restrained from disposing of the stock certificates.

Plaintiffs Listed

Plaintiffs in the legal action are Charles L. George, 202 Greene Street; Dr. William T. Fridinger, 756 Cleveland Avenue; Charles G. Smith, 631 Hill Top Drive; Earl Pritts, Shaw, W. Va.; Samuel Peters, Romney, and the Endless Thread Tractor Corporation, a Maryland corporation. The action was docketed for them by Attorney William H. Geppert of the Gunter and Geppert firms.

This corporation, which was incorporated under the laws of Maryland April 30, 1956, entered the business of manufacturing and selling garden tractors and leased a plant near Short Gap, W. Va., for the purpose.

The incorporators were the Burgesses and Earl Edmund Manges and the articles of incorporation provided for issuance of 150,000 shares of common stock with par value of 10 cents a share, according to the bill of complaint.

Burgess Elected

At the first meeting of the incorporators May 10, 1956, Burgess was elected president, his wife vice president and Manges, secretary and treasurer.

In pursuance of a motion at that first meeting, Burgess received a certificate for 75,000 shares of common stock and his wife a certificate for 4,000 shares, for par value because of his work in arranging for purchase of a patent and for work in promoting and forming the corporation. In payment for the stock, the Burgesses executed a promissory note for $8,000 to be paid within three years.

The bill of complaint states that after the company had been in business about a year the individual complainants, as stockholders in the corporation, made efforts to obtain financial condition information from Burgess, who refused.

Directors Added

On August 9, 1957, at a special stockholders meeting the number of directors was increased from three to seven. Mr. George, Mr. Struth, Mr. Fridinger and Peters were elected new directors. Pritts previously had been elected and had replaced Mrs. Burgess as vice president of the corporation.

At a regular directors' meeting August 30, Burgess was replaced by Dr. Fridinger as president, Manges was removed as secretary and treasurer and was succeeded by Smith in the former position and by George in the latter post.

The bill of complaint relates that the directors were advised at that meeting that the 80,000 shares of stock were issued to the Burgesses in violation of the corporation laws of Maryland and therefore, were invalid. When Mr. Burgess then refused to surrender the certificates of stock for cancellation, the board declared the shares of stock issued to the Burgesses null and void.

Commissioners Grant Beer License Refund

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved a $37.50 refund to James M. Roby, executor of the estate of Dennis Mankamyer, on a Class D beer license which Mankamyer had obtained for $100 for premises at 312 Springdale Street for the year which started May 1.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, reported that $50 of the license fee went to the county commissioners and the other $50 to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland.

Under the law, the executor of Mankamyer's estate is entitled to a refund on a pro rata basis. Because he died after only three months of the license year had passed, his executor is due to get $75 back, half from the county and half from the city.

Philatelic Society Names Mrs. Hogan

Mrs. Eva Hogan, adviser to the Fort Cumberland Philatelic Society, was named temporary secretary of the group last night.

She succeeds Peter Leger, who resigned because he has left town for primary study before entering the Christian Brothers.

At the next society meeting at City Hall September 24 a stamp auction will be conducted.

Mary Haworth Mail...

Editor's Note: Divorced by wife he loves, man is miserably depressed.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My wife divorced me two years ago after we had been parted four years—and now I am more depressed than ever. I've tried to get interested in other women, but always find myself comparing them to my wife—to their disadvantage. I've had to disappear a couple of times, to cut it certain matrimonial designs.

I may truthfully say my wife is the only woman I have loved—or probably ever will love. She is beautiful, charming, intelligent; a good mother and housekeeper; an exceptional business woman; an accomplished musician. In short, the most talented, interesting woman I've ever known. Yet in our 10 years' marriage I ran around all night—drinking and gambling. I stood her up, and worst of all, struck her.

I am insanely jealous of her—jealous even of our children. They obviously love her more than they did me—a thought that troubled me not at all, however, compared to the thought that she loved them more than me. I can't stand to see her dance with other men, though I often dance with other women...

Wildly Jealous And Uncontrolled

Sometimes I think I hit her because she was always so self-contained and self-sufficient—yet I couldn't stand a helpless whining shrinking violet. She never nagged; we had few quarrels; when I was sober, our sex life was completely compatible.

Nowadays I take her to dinner or a show, and we get along fine—unless someone telephones or speaks to her. Then I've got to know all about it—the third-degree that always ends with my insulting her and leaving in a wild rage. I become a wild man with no regard for anyone or anything. Until I am back on speaking terms with her I suffer—and I do mean suffer. I know this is rotten stupid behavior on my part... How does one get over his ex-wife...? —E. F.

Self-Control To The Rescue

DEAR E. F.: In your long letter, here condensed, you say: "I've had psychiatric care; it didn't cure my jealousy or my misery. Running away won't help. I spent two years on the West Coast—and a fortune in long distance calls and air mail letters..."

In short, nothing will help, except taking yourself in hand and applying the techniques of self-control and rational self-management—which is the last thing on earth you'd choose to do, if you weren't driven to it, by suffering. But believe me, the "will-ed" practice of self-control is your only "out" from the nightmare your life has become. Where and how to begin? My advice is to get acquainted with, and make use of, the comparatively new development in psychotherapy known as Recovery, Inc.

Recovery, Inc. Has The Answer

This movement, pioneered by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low at the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, has permanent headquarters at 116 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago 3, Illinois—with auxiliary groups in many cities, towns and neighborhoods throughout the nation.

A good deal has been written—and, so far as I know, all of it favorable—about the morale-building worth of Recovery, Inc. For example, my file includes articles from the Saturday Evening Post, the periodical Hospital Progress and the Jesuit weekly, America, over a period of the last few years, giving a strongly affirmative picture of Recovery, Inc.'s achievements.

In 1950, the Christopher Publishing House, Boston, Mass., published Dr. Low's text book "Mental Health Through Will Training" ($3)—which may be ordered through any book store. Hospital Progress calls attention to this book as a source of instruction, telling the patient how to "spot" his trouble-symptoms and cancel them out.

Invest in ownership of the book. And, if possible, get copies of the articles aforementioned. Perhaps they're obtainable, in reprint form, from the office headquarters of Recovery, Inc.—address given above.—M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of The Evening Times. (King Features Syndicate)

New Industry Promotion Plan Set Up

Chamber's Officials Schedule Trips To Various Prospects

The industrial promotion department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce is working on a new approach which will conserve and make the most effective use of the financial and manpower at its disposal.

This was included in the first public speech of Thomas W. Morris, director of the department, at the luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Rotary Club in Central YMCA yesterday.

Morris said a file has been prepared on all manufacturing firms in the country that meet two requirements. One is that they are companies with good financial and operating histories, and second that there is reason to believe that the natural assets of this area will be apt to fit their manufacturing requirements.

Trip Planned

This file has been broken down into geographical locations so that a single trip will cover visits of the department to a number of prospects, the director explained.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul area has been selected as the first place to be visited, and Morris said the way is being paved by a series of four letters to top executives of 28 companies in that region.

Two of the series has been mailed, he said. The first stressed Cumberland's fine transportation facilities and the proximity to major markets and centers of supply, Morris said.

Labor Supply Pointed Out

The second was on the good labor supply, the third to be mailed this week will point up the wide choice of industrial sites available here, and the fourth will advise of the city's and county's favorable tax and business climate.

The purpose of these visits will be to learn which of these firms have expansion or relocation needs and what can be done by the industrial promotion department to consider this section, Morris explained.

Morris also pointed out that in selling a community to a prospective industry the attitude of its people is taken into consideration.

Competition "Terrific"

Competition is "terrific" in the vigorous effort by thousands of communities and practically every state, region, railroad and utility to grab as much as the $36,000,000,000 being spent annually for new plants in recent years.

Morris was introduced by Anthony Saeli, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Also participating in the program was C. S. Calherman Jr., Chamber president.

Daniel McMullen Passes Bar Test

A Cumberland man, Daniel P. McMullen Jr., has passed the Maryland bar examination and has been admitted to the practice of law.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. McMullen, 826 Buckingham Road, The Dingle, he graduated from Cranwell Preparatory School, Lenox, Mass., in June of 1948. He also graduated from Georgetown University, Washington, in June, 1952, with an A. B. degree.

From August, 1952 to August, 1954 he served with the Air Force as a first lieutenant. He was stationed in England and Africa for part of his military service.

After completion of his military service he entered the University of Maryland Law School and graduated this year with an LLB degree.

He has accepted a position with the U.S. Department of Justice in the civil division and will assume his duties sometime next month.

PTA Meeting Set

The executive committee of the John Humbird School Parent-Teacher Association will meet tomorrow at 7 p. m. at the school library. The budget will be considered and plans for the year discussed.

TOP MARKSMEN—This team from Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 116th Regiment, placed among the top three teams in rifle matches when the 29th Division held its annual summer camp at Indianola Gap Military Reservation in August. The exact standing in the top three has not been re-

PSC Delays Changes In Phone Rates

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Proposed rate increases of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. have been postponed for a maximum of 120 days by the Public Service Commission.

The PSC said further study of the "justice and reasonableness" of the company's request would be made at a future hearing.

The postponement will start Sept. 16, the date the company had hoped to put the new rates and services into effect. Increases were expected to range from 65 to 85 cents a month on residential phones.

Proposed extended service would eliminate toll charges on many calls and allow them to be made on a local call basis.

W. G. Morrell, vice president of the company, said the firm was confident "the evidence to be presented at the forthcoming hearings will fully justify all of our rate proposals."

Local Guard Unit High In Team Firing

The rifle team representing Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, of the Maryland National Guard, placed among the top three units in firing matches at Indianola Gap Military Reservation.

Capt. John D. Hensell, commanding officer, said the firing matches were conducted among the component parts of the 29th Infantry Division during the recent summer encampment at Indianola Gap. Competing in the firing were units from Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia, Capt. Hensell said.

Various Positions

The Headquarters' Company team was composed of Master Sgt. Walter W. Hartman, Sgt. First Class John J. Divico, Sgt. First Class William Earle, and Sgt. First Class Anthony McKenzie.

Firing was done from both rapid and slow-fire positions, Capt. Hensell said, with Sgt. Hartman scoring a 91; Sgt. Divico, 85; Sgt. Earle, 82, and Sgt. McKenzie, 79.

In individual firing during the encampment, the highest scores were fired by the following members of Headquarters Company:

Sgt. Hartman, 91; Sgt. Divico, 92; Master Sgt. Graydon Dunlap, 80; Sgt. McKenzie, 81; Sgt. Earle, 85, and Sgt. First Class James E. Mullennex, 81.

Await Details

Capt. Hensell said the exact standing of his unit in the first three has not yet been announced by Division Headquarters.

Several openings exist in Headquarters Company, Capt. Hensell said, and persons interested in joining the National Guard unit.

At present, the National Guard unit at Petersburg couldn't be reached.

Business Men Name Three Directors

President Reports On Year's Activities To South End Unit

The annual president's report, election of three directors and a talk by a Washington newspaper and public relations consultant featured the dinner meeting of the South End Business Men's Association last night at the All Ghian Shrine Country Club.

Arnold Robertson, president, revealed the results of the balloting that chose Webster Edwards, James H. Garland and John Snyder as directors.

Holiday directors are Dr. Blair Stump, Harry Wilson and Wesley Taylor. Another director will be appointed to fill the unexpired term of A. L. Beckman, who resigned.

Memorial For Russler

The meeting was opened by invocation by Rev. Wayne Eberty, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren. Following was the reading of a memorial to the late Nelson W. Russler, a past president, by Perry Smith, past president.

Robertson in a summary of the past year's activities listed the number attending and in the line of march of the Halloween parade, the annual Christmas tree lighting at Race Street, and lights on Virginia Avenue.

He also listed the efforts of the association to obtain a local retail outlet of Goodwill Industries. This organization is staffed by handicapped people who collect used, serviceable clothing and shoes and rehabilitate them for sale.

Robertson said business has grown so that in the future a workshop for the handicapped, such as those held in Hagerstown, will be held here.

Robertson said the annual fair sponsored by the association at Penn Avenue Field netted $1,149.95.

He also remarked that at a meeting of past presidents and directors a motion was passed opposing the 25-cent increase on the city tax rate limitation until such time as the definite requirements are placed in the budget.

The president also said that the association worked constantly towards making a new Wiley Ford bridge a reality.

He said the efforts culminated in a meeting with Robert S. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission, and the subsequent results that the association is satisfied the only thing holding up the work is West Virginia.

Patrolman Praised

The association also expressed its appreciation to William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and fire, and to Police Chief R. E. Flynn for stationing a woman school safety patrolman at Virginia Avenue and Second Street.

The outgoing president also praised the work of the post office committee and its chairman, George Millenson, for obtaining a new postal facilities in South End.

The speaker was Win Pendleton, who writes the syndicated "Washington See-Saw" column and public relations consultant.

Dr. Stump gave the treasurer's report and the benediction was offered by Rev. James V. Hobbs, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Youth Wounded In Shoulder

A 14-year-old Cabins, W. Va. youth was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday evening with a .22 caliber bullet in his right shoulder.

Attaches said today that Roy Mallow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Mallow, is in "fair" condition.

Attaches were unable to find out how the shooting occurred and West Virginia State Police at Petersburg couldn't be reached.

"The motion to dismiss is overruled; Amana to have 15 days to reply to the declaration."

Judge Dismisses Defendant Petition In Warranty Case

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris today handed down an opinion in Circuit Court in a novel case involving a suit for alleged breach of warranty filed by a Cumberland man against a local dealer and the Amana Refrigeration, Inc., an Iowa corporation.

The suit was brought by James L. Poland, city, against Lewis Yankelevitz and the Amana firm some time ago and the Amana firm made a motion to dismiss the suit as it affected the Amana company because of lack of jurisdiction of the local court.

Judge Harris overruled the motion of the Amana firm to dismiss the suit against the firm.

Facts Reviewed

Judge Harris reviewed the facts in the case as follows:

"On or about the 31st day of March, 1956, the defendant, Lewis Yankelevitz, was engaged in the business of selling and distributing to the general public Amana Freezer-Refrigerators in Allegany County, Maryland. Amana manufactured these refrigerators in Iowa and the declaration alleges that Yankelevitz was its authorized dealer. The declaration further states that after the plaintiff paid for the refrigerator, he discovered it was defective and he notified Yankelevitz of its defective condition and Yankelevitz failed to repair the same or replace the same with equipment that would operate properly. The plaintiff further contends that Amana expressly warranted said equipment and was notified of its defective condition but failed to make good its warranty.

"Amana in its motion to dismiss alleges that all sales are made by it to franchised distributors who are wholly independent of Amana and operate their own business. The distributors, in turn, resell Amana products to local dealers who in turn resell the products to the consumer.

Warranty Cited

"At the time the motion was argued counsel for the parties filed in the proceeding a copy of the Amana Freezer-Refrigerator Five-Year Warranty Certificate. This certificate reads in part as follows:

"This is to certify that we warrant to the original purchaser of the Amana Freezer-Refrigerator identified by the serial number entered on this Warranty Certificate to be free from defects in material and workmanship under normal use and service. The obligation of Amana Refrigeration, Inc., under this warranty shall be limited to the furnishing for replacement purposes through its regularly appointed distributor or dealer any part or parts free of cost to the original purchaser upon return of such part or parts to the factory within one year following the date of delivery of said Freezer-Refrigerator or which examination by Amana Refrigeration, Inc., discloses to its satisfaction to be thus defective."

Bath Notified

"The youth, who has been missing from the college since Monday night, is wanted for passing bad checks in the amount of $200 in the Frostburg area.

It was reported this morning the youth had been picked up in Washington, but a check by The Evening Times proved the report false.

The case first developed when the youth appeared Sunday on the campus of Frostburg State Teachers College, identified himself as Marcus von Falkenhartz, and told students he was entering the college as a junior after having spent two years at the University of Oslo, Norway.

He even posed for a picture with a group of campus leaders. Speaking with a slight Teutonic accent, he told a reporter he was having trouble getting used to the American monetary system.

When R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, learned of von Falkenhartz's presence on the campus, he sent word for the youth to report to him. Hardesty said he knew Frostburg State was to receive no exchange students—the college can accept only American citizens—and figured von Falkenhartz had arrived at the wrong college.

But the youth disappeared sometime Monday night.

Hardesty called the State Department of Education, and learned that no such student had been sent to Frostburg. Then he called the Norwegian Embassy at Washington and was told that the Embassy had no record of any Norwegian students in this area.

College officials later learned that von Falkenhartz had bought four new tires for his car, and had some repairs made at a Frostburg service station, and paid by check. He also bought $33 worth of clothing, paying the store by check, and gave the Gunter Hotel a check for $16.32 to pay his bill.

The Frostburg National Bank on which the checks were drawn said von Falkenhartz had opened an account there and had deposited $10.

Hardesty notified State Police and authorities at other state teachers colleges in Maryland. Von Falkenhartz had told students that he was one of a group of Norwegians studying in this country, and that the others were at Towson and Salisbury state teachers colleges, at Georgetown University, and at Virginia Military Institute.

In a general alarm sent to 13 states, State Police described von Falkenhartz as about 22 years old, six feet two inches tall, weight about 165, with dark complexion and slightly protruding upper front teeth. He is described as a "good dresser."

The leaders have emphasized that no previous water ballet experience is necessary although aspirants should be fairly proficient swimmers with a basic knowledge of swimming strokes.

Among the other qualifications, a girl should have some skill in timing and control of her swimming and must be willing to cooperate with the instructors and classmates.

The program will continue on a weekly basis and will meet at the YMCA every Thursday at 4 p. m. It will be necessary for each participant to provide a bathing suit, towel, and bathing cap for herself.

Plans for the presentation of a show will be developed as the group progresses.

For further information contact: James Fortune YMCA director; PA 4-5445 or attend the opening session.

Virginia Avenue PTA Meeting Set

The Virginia Avenue School PTA will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the school with the new officers assuming their duties.

Mrs. Franklin Melotte, delegate of the unit to the summer PTA conference at the University of Maryland, will report on the event. The conference had as its theme "Tools and Techniques."

Mrs. Elbert Knick will review the by-laws. A "buzz" session will follow.

Classroom visitation will be held from 7 to 7:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served by the Home Room Mothers.

Second Section

Physical Ed Teachers To Meet Monday

Needs Of Students And Study Of New Program On Agenda

A meeting of physical education instructors for junior and senior high schools in Allegany County public schools will be held Monday, September 30, at 2 p. m. at the Board of Education office on Washington Street.

Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for county schools, said the purpose is to outline needs of the students as has been determined by the latest physical fitness reports on a nationwide basis.

Pence said after the discussion has proceeded far enough into the field of physical education needs a decision on revision of the curriculum where needed will be made.

An effort will be made during the year to expand the program so that more students will be serviced. The intramural and interscholastic programs would also be expanded, Pence said. It is hoped to set up the program to meet the most desirable aspects of the national program.

One field in which expansion is planned is in rhythms. Pence said that using rhythms programs the coordination and recreational welfare of the students will be furthered. Plans will also be discussed for the holding of workshops for physical education instructors where needed.

Health programs in connection with the physical education program will also be studied and revised where necessary. Pence said the physical education program in the junior and senior high schools will be checked to determine just what is needed to expand and improve the entire field.

FSTC Faculty, Personnel Hears Talk By Hardesty

FROSTBURG — In his address of welcome to faculty members and personnel at Frostburg State Teachers College this week, President R. Bowen Hardesty projected a number of questions to be answered if FSTC is to perform the duty for which it has been organized, and meet the demands of education in the second half of the Twentieth Century.

Among the queries posed were: "How can we, as a college, be exemplary in community-college interaction to impress upon our enrollees their responsibility in public schools wherever they may be employed? And how can we better develop teachers to help across the state to bring about a clearer understanding between town on September 28. Delegates from the non-west and west inter-named to the session include cultural relations in our nation?"

Hardesty stated that "We must, as Frostburg State Teachers College in training teachers, introduce these youths to every political, social and economic aspect of American culture down through the years that caused Mrs. Pence, assisted by Mrs. Shaver and Mrs. Bernard Maybury, a report of Girl State held at Jackson's Mill was given by Miss Anna Drane who was sponsored by the club. The club will hold a bake sale in November.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Larry Dimasi, chairman; Mrs. Dent Davis, Mrs. Thomas Campbell, Mrs. Joseph Maybury, Mrs. Charles Rizer, Mrs. Laura Baker and Mrs. Martin Weakley.

"In Maryland we are dedicated by state certification requirements to preparation of teachers who will go into 25 per cent of classrooms concerned with traditional teaching, while the other 75 per cent are concerned with core situations varying from a block to teach English and social studies to a block to solve broad problems. This means that the philosophy of Frostburg State Teachers College must necessarily be a middle of the road philosophy — not all the way to the right of ultra progressive and too far to the left of traditional."

Hardesty continued: "In keeping with these objectives all prospective teachers should ask themselves the question, 'Do I really and genuinely like children and am I willing to experiment to find better ways and methods to teach them?' In re-thinking education for the second half of the twentieth century emphasis must be placed upon the 3 R's, facts, arithmetic, handwriting, spelling and many additional equally important skills essential to any educational program."

A teacher who moves into a community, Hardesty added, should make a sociological study of the community, the school and the classroom where he will teach. He must become a part of that community, live in it and participate in organizations dedicating his talents to that community. He also pointed out that "social graces" which accounted for the formation of many of the early colleges and universities would be emphasized to future teachers.

In closing his talk he stated that they must reach a happy medium in college-community relationships, liberal arts and professional courses, lectures and activity work, and methods and theory in teaching.

Plans Mapped By County UF

Rain Delays Tournament Start, Three Tilts On Tap

Our "spies" from College Park have sent some most pleasant news regarding the Cumberland players battling for positions on the University of Maryland football team.

When it was announced Monday evening that sophomore Rodney Breedlove had moved up to the second team, the report came as no surprise. Big things are expected of the former all-round star at Allegany High and the feeling has been that Rod would be pushing the first-string linemen before the season was over.

As it stands, he's pushing them even before the season starts. And there are some observers around the College Park campus who feel Breedlove belongs on the starting line right now because of his excellence as a line-backer.

Probably the biggest surprise of the pre-season scrimmages is Ron Shaffer, the rough-and-ready ex-Fort Hill Sentinel who teamed with Breedlove last year to give Roy Lester's freshman team a terrific one-two punch at the end positions.

As a result of his determination and pass-catching ability, Shaffer has moved in to a spot on the second team behind Ben Scotti. And there's a strong possibility that Shaffer would be on the first team if he were on the other side of the line instead of understanding Scotti.

Lester tipped us off on Shaffer at the conclusion of the 1956 freshman season. "Keep an eye on Ronnie," Roy declared, "he's going to make things rough for our first-stringers next year."

When Shaffer moved up, another erstwhile Fort Hill sentinel dropped to the second team. Bill Stepp had been Scotti's running mate until big Ed Cooke, who went to Maryland heralded as a second Leon Hart, was elevated to the No. 1 unit.

But there's no reason to believe that Stepp won't be back up on top. When coach Tommy Mont visited his parents here a few months ago, he was very enthusiastic about Stepp's chances of being a regular this fall.

"Bill doesn't have the finesse of a lot of ends but I'm more impressed with him every time I look over last season's game movies," Tom declared.

Gene Alderton, of course, has already nailed down the starting job at center. There have been stories from Maryland to the effect that Frederick's Wilbur Main, a fine linebacker, will be pushing Alderton. But those who know the former Fort Hill ace intimately are aware he's not the kind of player who needs to be pushed in order to succeed. The fact that he is regarded as All-American material is reason enough for Gene to put forth effort "above and beyond the call of duty."

Fort Hill's Ron Athey, injured in the team's initial workout, had been slated for first-team guard duty. Athey hurt his right knee doing calisthenics and according to Ed Atwater in today's Baltimore Morning Sun, Ron may be out for the season. Athey's loss, states Atwater, could be Maryland's most serious blow of the season.

The other Cumberlander on the Maryland varsity is Ken Poling (Fort Hill), an end. While Carl Brown, a regular for three years at Allegany, is the only local representative on this season's Terp freshman squad, Brown and other freshmen have been working out in scrimmages against the varsity.

Joe Kopinsky, the former West Virginia University star end, has quit pro football in favor of a teaching job at Wilkinsburg (Pa.) High School. . . . Kopinsky had been working out with the Chicago Cardinals and turned down the coaching job at Romney High when it looked like he would stick. . . . He doesn't have anything to do with football at Wilkinsburg but a staff spot is to be opened for him next year. . . . Hagerstown's South High will play only nine games this year instead of ten. . . . The Rebels were slated to meet Charles Town on September 28 but a schedule complication developed and the game was cancelled.

The weather was so dry when West Virginia assembled its grid squad at Jackson's Mill that coach Art Lewis ordered the use of rubber-cleated shoes to guard against shin splints on the rock-like turf. . . . ## Evans Proves Golf Is Game For All Ages

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Chick Evans, still winning championship golf matches at the age of 67, hopes to prove golf is a game for all ages. And he'd like to see players with an age span of 30 or 40 years have a chance to win the National Amateur Championship, not just "the young and strong."

Evans, still eager to win, is holding up his end very well so far, although he maintains he has no right to go any farther in the 57th life tournament at The Country Club. The young and strong are doing pretty well too.

As the 57th championship tournament entered the two-rounds-daily stage today, 15 of the 64 remaining players were 21 or younger. Not the least of them was Ward Westrauer, a 21-year-old Hamilton College junior, who turned in the most resounding upset so far when he knocked out popular Billy Joe Patton on the 19th hole of their second-round match.

Of the real Old Guard, only Evans remained after the elimination yesterday of 1921 champion Jesse Gullford, 61, and national senior champion Fred Wright, 58.

Sooners Get Dull Prepping For Pitt

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Coach Bud Wilkinson said today his Oklahoma Sooners have worked so hard preparing for their football opener Sept. 21 at Pittsburgh they have "become dull." He ordered a letup in the practice schedule.

Wilkinson also said he does not believe pressure of being the defending national champion with pre-season raves, polices—and a 40-game victory streak still intact—has affected his Sooners.

He declined to comment, though, on how much effect it has had on the coaches.

Oklahoma has toppled every opponent since October, 1955, when Pittsburgh fought the Sooners to a 7-7 draw. For two straight years Oklahoma has won the national championship, and many experts are predicting an unprecedented third consecutive crown.

Wilkinson said today none of his players is seriously hurt but that many have "bumps and bruises" and all are extremely tired. He dropped the squad back to one-a-day practices after 10 days of grueling morning and afternoon workouts.

Rain Postpones First Games In 'Int'l' Playoffs

Rain was the only winner in the International League last night as downpours forced postponement of the opening games of the Governors' Cup playoffs.

Miami was scheduled to play at Toronto and Richmond at Buffalo until the rains came.

Schedule Announced For Capital Alleys

Two leagues, the C&P Telephone Company and Bell & Forge, have already started their duckpin seasons and 11 more are slated to get under way on six different days at the Capital alleys.

The Hot Rod circuit will begin Saturday followed by South End Liquor Dealers and Western Maryland Railway, Sunday; City Church League, Monday; BPO Elks and Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Tuesday; City Workers, South End Business Men and Sterling Electric, Wednesday, and Kelly Springfield, Thursday.

Ritter's A.C. will open their season Sept. 25.

Jerry Landis Gets Starting Job At Quarter For Spiders

By The Associated Press

Richmond's Spiders have a three-way battle for quarterback and how the boys look in practice will play a big part in Coach Ed Merrick's weekly choice of a signal caller in an effort to boost the Spiders into the thick of the Southern Conference football race.

The prime candidates for Richmond's trouble spot are two lettermen—Jerry Landis, 180-pound junior from Cumberland, Md., and Joe Rosetti, 175-pound sophomore—and 170-pound freshman Jim Boger.

As of now, Landis, appears set to start in the Spiders' opener Saturday night at Portsmouth, Va., against East Carolina.

"Landis has improved 100 per cent over last year," says Merrick. "It's the best of the three, on defense and also as a ball handler and short passer."

Rain interfered with practice at numerous spots yesterday.

VMI went through a defensive review in the morning, then emphasized kicking and pass defense in the afternoon.

A defensive scrimmage was washed out at William & Mary. The Indians went through punting and extra point kicking drills and also staged a dummy kickoff and field goal return scrimmage.

Virginia Tech Coach Frank Moseley, although not pleased with the Gobblers' performance in a two-hour scrimmage, had words of praise for the running of Jay Whitesell, the junior halfback, who had touchdown runs of 75, 43, and three yards and gained 148 yards in eight carries.

But Banks finally was restored to his rightful spot in the ball and almost immediately his bat started to sing.

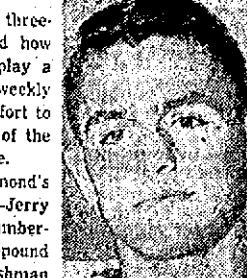

The hitting of the right-handed swinger has been so hot that the Cubs now stand a good chance of finishing out of last place.

Banks clubbed two homers and a single yesterday to drive in four runs as the Cubs crushed the Brooklyn Dodgers 9 to 2. When Pittsburgh lost, the Cubs took over seventh place.

Banks' homers were his 35th and 36th, leaving him just eight short of the all-time record set in 1955 for shortstops.

That same season he hit five homers with the bases loaded, something never before done in the history of baseball.

Banks is a lean 6-foot-1 and 180 pounds. He played with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League before joining the Cubs near the end of the 1953 season. From that first day, he played 424 consecutive games for the Cubs before injuries forced him to the sidelines.

Banks Proves Shortstop His Best Position

By International News Service

Ernie Banks' is proving that there is only one comfortable position for him—and that's shortstop.

The 26-year-old native of Dallas, Tex., was pushed aside this spring as the Chicago Cubs tried to remodel their infield of hopes of escaping the cellar.

But Banks finally was restored to his rightful spot in the ball and almost immediately his bat started to sing.

The hitting of the right-handed swinger has been so hot that the Cubs now stand a good chance of finishing out of last place.

Banks clubbed two homers and a single yesterday to drive in four runs as the Cubs crushed the Brooklyn Dodgers 9 to 2. When Pittsburgh lost, the Cubs took over seventh place.

Banks' homers were his 35th and 36th, leaving him just eight short of the all-time record set in 1955 for shortstops.

That same season he hit five homers with the bases loaded, something never before done in the history of baseball.

Banks is a lean 6-foot-1 and 180 pounds. He played with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League before joining the Cubs near the end of the 1953 season. From that first day, he played 424 consecutive games for the Cubs before injuries forced him to the sidelines.

Potomac May Start Almost All-Frosh Line

Coach "Horse" Lough was faced with the smallest Potomac State College football squad at Monday's practice in the past several years. Several of the boys who had been attending the pre-season practice did not return and only one new boy reported with the opening of school.

Usually there are as many as a dozen boys report from the student body at the opening of freshman week, but this year seems to be an exception.

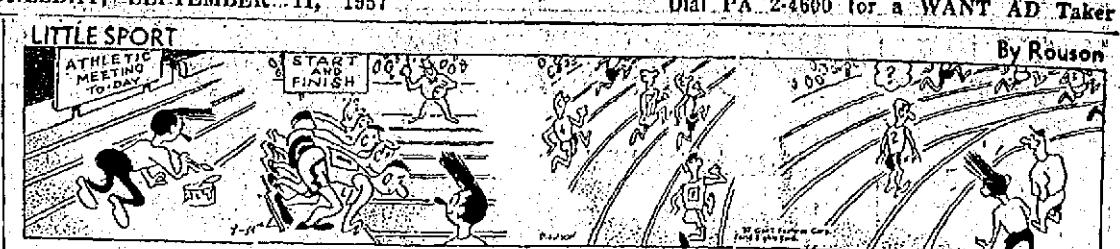

The Potomac State Squad, very thin of sophomores in the line, may finally result in the use of a freshman line almost entirely.

Maxie Armentrout received a broken ankle in last Friday's practice game and is lost for the season. The other sophomore, Fred Nestor, has badly bruised ribs and may not start against Glenville this coming Saturday.

George Walters, at left tackle, has been striking his players since their arrival on the campus Aug. 30, but added that the cancellation was decided upon when eight players turned in with the flu Sunday.

"The decision to cancel the game was a tough one, and I know our boys are disappointed, but we must follow medical advice. It is impossible to play a football game until these boys are fully recovered."

In Los Angeles, UCLA athletic director Wilber Johns said efforts

Braves, Bears Take Openers

By International News Service
The Wichita Braves and Denver Bears won opening games in the American Association playoffs last night, Wichita topping St. Paul, 4 to 1, and Denver defeating Minneapolis, 4 to 2. Carlton Willey of Wichita, who won 21 games during the regular season, limited Saint Barts to six hits while fanning eight.

Earl Hersh provided the Brave runs needed to win as he homered in the first inning with one on. St. Paul hurler Stan Williams was the loser. Norm Larker's home run accounted for the lone Saint score.

Denver's Zack Monroe allowed Minneapolis only six hits in notching his win. Bear shortstop Fritz Brickell sparked the attack with three safeties, including a home run. Steve Ridzik was the losing pitcher.

Wichita's Joey Jay, a 17-game winner, was scheduled to hurl tonight for the Braves with the opposing pitcher expected to be Ron Negray. Denver's Ryne Duran and Joe Margonelli of Minneapolis oppose each other in the Western game.

The first-round series are best-of-seven meetings. The clubs move to opposite ball parks after tomorrow night's games.

Series winners will clash to decide an Association representative to compete with an International League team in the Little World Series.

Holman KO'd By Meteff In Ninth Round

DENVER 16 — Argentina's 22-year-old hopeful for the heavyweight title, Alex Meteff, continued his uninterrupted march toward that goal last night, knocking out veteran Johnny Holman.

"I was too slow at first," Meteff said in talking over his knockout of the 204-pound Chicagoan in 2:32 of the ninth round.

Miteff, scoring his 12th pre-victory without a defeat, came back with a body attack that set up Holman for the finish. "Holman, he's got a big punch," Miteff acknowledged as he nursed a swollen left eye with an ice bag in his dressing room after the fight.

Holman, knocked out for the sixth time in 48 bouts, collected the big end of the purse. He was paid $4,300 under a contract that guaranteed him $2,000 or 25 per cent of the purse. Miteff picked up a flat $4,000. The crowd of 5,009 paid a gross gate of $19,798.

Holman pitched forward to the canvas after Miteff shook him up with hooks to the body and followed with quick rights and lefts to the head.

Judge Max Baer and one referee Max Baer and one judge, Bob Sauer, had Holman in front on points through the eighth round. Baer had scored it Holman in front on points through the eighth round. Baer had scored it Holman 39-38 and Sauer pegged it Holman 37-36. Jack Bloom, the second judge, had Miteff ahead 37-36. The AP scored it 35-35.

Johnson Eyes Title Battle After Victory

PHILADELPHIA 6 — Light heavyweight Harry Johnson's manager said today he may have an offer for the winner of the Archie Moore-Tony Anthony title bout next Friday.

Manager Pat Oliveri, pleased with Johnson's 10-round decision last night over Wayne Bethea of New York, said he was contemplating taking Johnson out to Los Angeles as a spectator at the Moore-Anthonys' fight.

If they go, said Oliveri, there will be an offer to the winner of a $50,000 guarantee for a bout with Johnson, whose win over Bethea gave him a record for the year of three victories against no defeats.

Johnson, the No. 1 contender for Moore's title, gave a slim Convention Hall crowd of 4,000 a show of superlative boxing in his first hometown bout—and the first major fight card here—since May 8, 1955.

That was the night Johnson ate the so-called "doped orange" before entering the ring—which he said apparently drugged him and for which he was suspended six months.

Scoring most of his points with sharp combinations and single punches, Johnson won his way back into the good opinion of hometown fans. For his trouble at 181 pounds to Bethea's 179½, the three officials gave him 48 points to 44 for Bethea under the NBA five-point must system.

QUESTION: The batter hits a long fly to left field. The fielder goes back to a low wall, leaps and grabs the ball. He falls backward into the seats and drops the ball, as he does so, Is it an out? — Jack Teller.

Answer: It is a home run. The batter would be out if the fielder held the ball.

Tapping

The Chicago White Sox must wish the elements had treated them the same way because they lost to the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 4, to fall six full games behind the Yankees.

The Red Sox scored single runs in the first and second innings off Bob (No-Hit) Keegan and then broke the game open by scoring five times in the third as Jim Piersall hit a three-run homer. But the White Sox fought back and faced four Red Sox pitchers in the ninth inning while scoring three times.

Ike Delock finally put out the fire, and saved Tom Brewer's 16th victory, by striking out Sherin Lollar and retiring Ron Jackson on a foul.

Homers by Wally Moon and Del Ennis helped the Cards build up a three-run lead but the Phils rallied for two in the sixth and one in the eighth to send the game into overtime. The score remained tied until the 14th when the Cards ended the marathon. Roberto lost his 20th tops in the majors—against nine wins. Lindy McDaniel was the victor in relief.

The Giants scored in the first as Danny O'Connell and Willie Mays pulled a double steal. Rookie Joe Taylor's two-run homer in the sixth off Johnny Antonelli gave Lawrence all the runs he needed for his 15th victory.

Banks raised his home run total to 36 and drove in four runs to help Dick Drott win his 14th game. The Cubs scored three times in the first, third and sixth innings with Sandy Koufax taking the initial beating. Bobby Morgan also homered for the Cubs.

Colts Sell Girard
To Pittsburgh Steelers

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Carl (Jug) Girard, halfback veteran of nine National Football League seasons, was sold by the Baltimore Colts yesterday to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Girard was bought by the Colts last season after playing for the Detroit Lions since 1952. Earlier he had been with the Green Bay Packers, who had made him their No. 1 choice in the 1948 draft.

No price was disclosed in yesterday's transaction.

Dedicate was the top horse in money won during the 1957 Monmouth Park racing meet. The Jim Burke color bearer earned $72,625.

Bob Walsh (.273), and Vaughn Trexler (.150). Back row, Thomas Lynn (.390), Gary Aldridge (.397), Ed Bridges (.321), manager Graham, John Smith (.635), Joe Nolan (.529), Don Engle (.323) and Bob Barth (.328). Joe Neder and James Smith were absent when picture was taken. Nolan and Engle both won 10 games with Nolan fanning 83 and Engle 80. Smith had the most homers, 11, while the team connected for 34 round-trippers in scoring 236 runs and collecting 250 hits.

Judge Bob Sauer, had Holman in front on points through the eighth round. Baer had scored it Holman in front on points through the eighth round. Baer had scored it Holman 39-38 and Sauer pegged it Holman 37-36. Jack Bloom, the second judge, had Miteff ahead 37-36. The AP scored it 35-35.

Nurse Education Being Expanded

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—The three-year hospital and classroom training program to become a graduate nurse is inadequate, one nursing group has decided.

Demands of the profession and modern living require the more complete background of a Bachelor of Science degree, say the Sisters of Mercy, pioneer San Francisco nursing group, which will convert its three-year nursing college into a four-year program.

When a girl finishes her training there she will be able to add three sets of initials after her name—R. N. (registered nurse), B. S. (Bachelor of Science), and P. H. N. (public health nurse).

The Sisters of Mercy opened the West Coast's first hospital in San Francisco on December 8, 1854.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birth date comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

For Thursday, Sept. 12, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 19 (Aries) — A time for sensible caution and moderation. If you pause and plan your schedule wisely, you can honest and be ready for tomorrow.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Guard against carelessness, extravagance in finance. Listen to advice and criticism without the defensive. You can do better than most others now.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Handle irritating matters and people, tedious details and difficult tasks calmly, and you can avoid trouble. Put your best efforts into your work.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer) — Working cooperatively with others, you can benefit through their advice and help. Don't rush into action unthinking; pause, consider.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo) — inertia, lack of initial enthusiasm. Personal matters may not work out quite the way you wish, but keep busy at your tasks and, at the end of the day, you won't be disappointed. You must remain some issues.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo) — A better day for making improvements, trying to elevate aspirations and making steady progress in familiar matters than for trying new ventures. Have all the facts.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra) — Inaccuracy and carelessness are tendencies now; curb them. Don't shirk tedious details or tasks, either.

You can read good results if you think and plan sensibly. Enjoy some rest.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio) — Don't give up too easily on essentials and don't waste time on trifles. Point efforts toward worthwhile objectives; then even if you make a little progress, it will be a step in the right direction.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Of all branches, importance now is HOW you arrange and manage your program. Allegiant duties so as to save time and red tape. What you know you cannot accomplish, leave to someone else.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Sound principles and rules should be followed closely. Step long enough, as you begin your day, to choose the shortest, but wisest course. All worthwhile activities can advance.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — You may not reach all your goals now but you surely can make some headway in your occupation and in your personal activities by being alert, steady on the job. There's no need for anxiety; push ahead.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — In the main, this day especially favors familiar masters and tasks that must be completed quickly. Don't depart radically from your present program but do be progressive enough to keep pace with modern methods.

YOU BORN TODAY: Some of the world's most artistic and proficient persons in varied lines of endeavor have been born today. If you are a deep thinker, the fervent idealist, a good cause, Your honor, truth and loyalty are notable. Never let these God-given traits suffer for want of good use. Don't worry while you try. Keep looking for improving your talents and capabilities.

Endplay Gains Needed Trick

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

South was pleased with the dummy and the opening lead. He left the jack of clubs run around to his queen and led a spade. He finessed the jack and East won with the king and returned the deuce of hearts.

South won with his king and led a diamond. Dummy's queen fell to East's ace and another low heart came back. South won that trick and played a second spade. When West showed out South saw that he was going to have real trouble picking up his ninth trick. He could count three hearts, two clubs and one diamond and saw no possibility of getting any more tricks in those suits. Hence, he needed three spade tricks and that meant that he would have to endplay East.

South did it quite simply. He cashed dummy's ace of hearts and led a diamond to his king. Another diamond play gave East a chance to cash two tricks in

River Action Will Be Filed By Virginia

BALTIMORE (AP)—A suit against the State of Maryland for abrogating the Compact of 1785 will be formally filed tomorrow by Virginia, the other party to the 172-year-old river treaty.

A representative of Virginia Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. will personally deliver the legal papers to Maryland's Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert at the governor's Baltimore office at 4:15 p. m. (EDT).

The case will be heard by the U. S. Supreme Court. Virginia is challenging action of the Maryland General Assembly ending Maryland's participation in the compact.

It guaranteed Virginia equal fishing rights in the Maryland-owned Potomac River.

Virginia claims the pact cannot be terminated without action of both states and will test Maryland's action in the nation's highest court.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of Cub Scouts Pack 20 of Mt. Royal School tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Youths Tell Conference Curfew Laws Should Go

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Juveniles participating in the Governor's Conference on Juvenile Delinquency have recommended abolishing curfew laws.

In a report to the conference, which ends today, a Youth Advisory Committee said it was opposed to curfews based on the false premise that most young people will get into trouble.

Make 19 Points

The committee, made up of 24 youngsters from all parts of Maryland, submitted a report of 19 principles, recommendations and opinions to the conference. They included:

1. Compulsory church attendance as a probation requirement is wrong although an interfaith organization might help the courts keep the ministers notified of delinquency situations.

2. "Drag strips" (for automobile racing) should be constructed in various sections of the state with adequate supervision.

3. Give youth the opportunity for greater participation in community planning and the carrying out of social and recreational activities.

4. The committee is opposed to the principle of curfew laws, believing such legislation is based on the false premise that most young people will get into trouble.

5. Punishing parents for the offenses of their children is ineffective and tends to drive a deep wedge between parent and child.

Must Reach Family

In a panel discussion on what communities can do to increase physical and mental services to prevent delinquency, Dr. Irvin N. Cusher, Baltimore obstetrician, said it is important to reach the child and family early.

A start can be made even before the child is born, Dr. Cusher said, in prenatal clinics where parents, especially the expectant mother, can be counseled in the proper care of the child. And in

Four Acquitted On Clam Charge

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP)—A magistrate acquitted four clambers last night of operating over a natural oyster bar but warned them they may face fines of up to $500 if brought in again on the same charge.

Magistrate J. W. Thompson Jr. agreed it might have been difficult to spot the bar on July 17 when the four were arrested. He said additional buoys are now in place to mark Broad Creek Bar, which runs north and south of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

Acquitted were Hiram W. Ruth, Harvey Ruth, Walter E. Thompson and Wayne Horney, all of Grasonville. They said it was hard to see stakes put out to mark the bar.

River Action Will Be Filed By Virginia

BALTIMORE (AP)—A suit against the State of Maryland for abrogating the Compact of 1785 will be formally filed tomorrow by Virginia, the other party to the 172-year-old river treaty.

A representative of Virginia Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. will personally deliver the legal papers to Maryland's Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert at the governor's Baltimore office at 4:15 p. m. (EDT).

The case will be heard by the U. S. Supreme Court. Virginia is challenging action of the Maryland General Assembly ending Maryland's participation in the compact.

It guaranteed Virginia equal fishing rights in the Maryland-owned Potomac River.

Virginia claims the pact cannot be terminated without action of both states and will test Maryland's action in the nation's highest court.
